Mr. Ruopp.

EPA has reviewed of the Draft July 2014 Monthly Progress Report for the Techalloy/Central Wire site in Union, Illinois. EPA is waiting on the final July Monthly Progress Report to be issued with the update groundwater level graphs and certification of the report by CentralWire. The report is a week late at this time. EPA's comments are:

1. Per Techalloy's email of August 15, 2014, EPA did not receive a useful graph showing the plots of the water level, precipitation, and pumping. CentralWire's consultant Autumnwood was to revise the graphs. Techalloy should provide a more detailed graph(s). Given the comparatively long duration of pumping during July, this plot is of particular interest and should be provided.
2. The July Monthly Progress report did not include analysis of the results of the residential well sampling from June 9, 2014. Per our comments on the June report, Techalloy should note when and where is this data going to be discussed.
3. Minor points: Table of Summary of Irrigation Hours at Central Sod Farm, June 30 to August 5, 2014 is missing hours pumped for July 7, 2014 and has used several different fonts in the table. Use the same font throughout the table. Under the Upcoming Events section, the second sentence has two periods, eliminate one of the periods.

When can the EPA expect to receive the final July 2014 Monthly Progress Report? When can EPA expect a response on the comments on the June 2014 Monthly Progress Report (see attached letter)? If you have any questions please contact me.

Respectfully,

John Nordine, CPG, LPG
